UNDERWEAR,

WE HAVE COMPLETE LINES OF THE

"CHEST SHIELD UNDERSHIRT"

This undershirt opens in the back, and is double both front and back (the dotted line in the cuts showing the portions made double), thus bringing the protection exactly where it is most needed, and affording safety from all pulmonary complaints incident to sudden hanges of weather, etc. Experienced physicians claim that in our changeable climate an un dershirt that is heavy enough to protect the lungs is too heavy and too heating over the abdomen, caused by numerous folds being tucked into the drawers. The CHEST SHIELD overcomes all this by having the lower part medium weight, the upper part double, thus securi ing an even temperature all over the body. We have them in scarlet and white, and in al grades. Try it and you will use none other, as it is decidedly the best undershirt that has

Gulteau's Trial-Diminished Attendance-The Prisoner Still "Chipping In." WASHINGTON, November 23d.—The attendance at the Criminal Court this morning was sensibly diminished, on account of a rain the City Hall, he expressed disastisfaction at the release of Jones upon bail.

When the Court opened, Scoville made a formal request for the papers taken from Guiteau at the time of his arrest, stating that they were material evidence for the de-should be withheld.

The District Attorney offered to furnish copies of the papers, but Scoville insisted upon his rights in the matter, and asked for the originals.

Pending the discussion Guiteau insisted upon being heard, and said: "I can throw light upon this. At the time of my arrest I had forty or fifty editorial slips, showing the political situation in May and June. These slips show the action and forces that impelled me on to shoot the President. They are very important, as shewing the gist of the whole matter. There were forty or fifty slips denouncing President Garfield. It was living on such ideas as these that I was finally impelled to shoot the President with my inspirapelled to shoot the President with my inspiragestive of the negro race, and for that reason he had dropped it from his name. His rejudice was begotten twenty years before.

He meant no disrespect to any person or any race, particularly not to the colored race, for they were more highly thought of than the white race nowadays, Scoville continued by reading Guiteau's letters. He read a letter written by Guiteau to his father, in which he spoke of having gotten into some trouble, and in which he asked for money. Guiteau explained the letter, saying: "One of my clients, a miserable little whelp, had me arrested on account of a little difference of $20 between us. As soon as the District Attorney's attention was called to the matter I was released. I never ought to have been arrested, but it got into the papers and did me a good deal of harm. I had been in the theology business some time, and as usual

As the reading of the letter concluded, Guiteau again interrupted, saying: "I never got much from my father. He got down on me because I left the Oneida Community. We could never after that agree on that miserable, stinking Community business. I'm mad every time I think of it. It kept me out of fellowship with my father up to the time of his death."

Scoville, resuming, alluded to Guiteau's Scoville, resuming, alluded to Garceau's career as a politician, and drew the conclusion that his intellect was deficient.

This view aroused the prisoner at once, and he began a series of interruptions, protesting against Scoville's conclusions as false.

When reference was made to running the state of gainst Scoville's conclusions as false.
When reference was made to running around from one committee to another seek ing to be employed as a campaign speaker, his failure to obtain recognition was menunsel's declaration to the jury yesterday (that Guiteau was a man who never made a joke in his life), he looked up with an amused smile and added, "I presume I'd

This provoked general laughter, which was promptly suppressed by the Judge, who struggled to disguise a smile upon his own features. Scoville continued upon the same line and criticised Guiteau's speech entitled "Garfield vs. Hancock." He said it was a mere jumble of ideas, collected from the newspapers and from speeches of others. No one but a crazy man would have imagined, as Guiteau did, that his speech possessed any merit.

Guiteau became more and more restless, and in the most excited manner ever shown by him, shouted to Scoville: "I object to your theory on that score, and when you try to make out that I am a fool I am down on
you. I want you to tell the truth, but you needn't try to make me out a fool. I say that the Deity inspired my act, and He will take care of it. I want the truth, and that is all there is about it."

Colonel Corkhill arcse to protest against the interruptions of the prisoner, when Gui-teau waved his hand to him patronizingly and said : " It is not necessary to make any remarks, Colonel; just let the matter drop," Scoville was willing to agree to any measures that the District Attorney might suggest to restrain the prisoner. Davidge desired to suggest a way to prevent the outbreaks. He attributed them entirely to Scoville's course in commenting on the evidence already submitted, and his at-tempt to argue from it a mental affirmity on the part of the prisoner.

Guiteau listened intently, and, striking his clenched hand on the table in front of him, exclaimed: "I agree with that all through, and I desire to thank the prosecution, every one of them, for the liberal spirit they have shown. I think Colonel Cerkhill made a fine opening speech. There was not any bitter ness at all in his speech, and I commend him for it." Guiteau continued to interject his observations upon Scoville's theory that he (Guiteau) was deficient in intellect, and protested that he would not allow his counsel to make him out a fool. After a few minutes Guiteau subsided, and promised the Court that he would keep quiet. Scoville concluded his opening speech without further interruption or incident. At the request of the District Attorney the witnesses for the defense were excluded from the Court-room, with the exception of Mrs. Scoville. The prosecution, at the request of Scoville, made an exception in her case. The first witness for the defense, H. M.

Burton, was then examined. He testified that he did not think the prisoner so deranged as to be irresponsible; thought him not deranged, but very badly arranged. There was no cross-examination of this H. M. Davis, of Erie, Pennsylvania, testified to a knowledge of the insanity of Guiteau's aunts.

Thompson Wilcoxov, of Freeport, Illinois, knew Guiteau's father, and described his pe-John A. Rice, of Minton, Wisconsin, a practicing physician of twenty-six years, testified that he examined the prisoner in 1876, and came to the conclusion that he was insane. His insanity was emotional rather than intellectual. There appeared to be an impairment of judgment, but not much, if any, impairment of intellect. He told his friends that Guiteau ought to be secluded.

Witness treated Guiteau's father; did not onsider him insane. After several witnesses had been examined the prisoner often interrupting in his usual manner, the Court adjourned until to-mor-

Butler Likely to Take a Hand. CHICAGO, November 23d.—A Washington pecial says: Mr. Scoville is now very confident that General Benjamin F. that evidence submitted by the prosecution in the divorce suit during the past week or two has been of a very damaging character, and Mrs. Christiancy has brooded continually ever it. It was impossible for any one to see her to-night, as she was under the doctor's care, who had prescribed absolute rest, and given her a narcotic to induce sleep. Her moans could be plainly heard on the sidewalk, and passers-by were attracted by the unusual sound, until a crowd had congregated in the vicinity of the house. The affair has created a considerable excitement in this city, owing to the fact that the parties are so well known. The construction GENERAL NEWS.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.

Sad and Lonely Death of a Veteran Actor. New York, November 23d.—The circumstances attending the death of the late James H. Vinson, the veteran California actor and stage manager, were very painful. He was taken ill in a saloon on Sixth avenus much frequented by the profession, and requested the man in charge to allow him to remain all wight. When the calculations are remained in the fense, and since the prosecution had not needed them, he could not see no reason why they should be withheld.

night. When the saloon was opened in the morning Vinson was found dead. There was not a soul near him when he passed away. It is generally believed that he died of theumatism of the heart. The prominent actors here have taken charge of the funeral, and his emains will be deposited in Woodlawn Cemetery to-morrow. California Fruit Interests. Colonel Corkhill interposed again, saying,

"If it will favor you to get through to-day I will send for them."

During the momentary lull in the proceedings Guiteau again tried to make a personal explanation, saying he had used the expression yesterday that "Julius" was too sugquestive of the pergrapes and for that reason world is concerned. The Star Route Cases. Washington, November 23d.—The acting Attorney-General makes public the reports submitted by M. M. Gibson, special attorney for the United States in the star service investigation, who says: For manifest reasons it would not be prudent to disclose all the facts discovered by the investigation pursued by representatives of the two Departments, or indicate the evidence, which must be reserved for the Courts. The document, nevertheless, would fill twenty newspaper columns.

WHAT THE COUNTRY PRESS SAY.

Oroville Register: That the Spring Valley Mining Company, with no natural outlet for their tailings that would not destroy a large body of agricultural lands, took hold of the matter with an earnest purpose of doing everything possible to work their mine without damage to the farming lands. To that end the company expended many thousand dollars, and with such success that complaints are no longer heard from the farmers of damage sustained by the flow of debris from the Spring Valley mine. What has been done by the Spring Valley Mining Company in this matter can, in our opinion, be done by nineteen-twentieths of the hydraulic mining companies in the State. In the case of the debris from the Spring Valley mine, the canal being constructed with capacity to carry all the waters of Dry creek, the dump of the mine, at its highest stages, a separation of the fine from the coarse material is made at the reservoir in the edge of the valley, instead of at the dump of the sluices, as would be required in hand-

TECTIONISTS.

The Tariff Convention recently held at Chicago seems to have put forward some of the most impudently mendacious statements that have ever been advanced by the tax-eating class in order to hoodwink the dupes who maintain them out of their harfl earnings. Thus the Committee on Resolutions reported among other almost equally reckless assertions that "the protective 'policy of America is to be credited with having not only provided the revenue with which to subdue the Rebellion, revive the national credit, and discharge in 'large part the national debt, but also with having quadrupled the industries of the country, maintained their unexampled and continued prosperity for twenty years, and turned the balance of trade steadily and with unexampled power in our favor." It is certainly strange that a Convention of responsible men should have thought it either creditable or politic In New York Government bonds are quoted at to make such a series of assertions as the 116% for 4s of 1907; 113% for 4%s; 101% for 3%s; ster. above, for as a matter of fact every one of them is not only flagrantly false, but can be shown to be false without the least difficulty. The pretense that protection "provided the revenue with which to subdue the rebellion" is one of the most preposterous of the series, as the figures will instantly demonstrate. The total revenue derived from the tariff during the rebellion was $305,363,213, while the cost of the war was $3,179,372,249. It therefore appears that protection did not furnish one-tenth Two men were severely injured at Sonora Tues- of the money required to put down the rebellion. PORTLAND, November 23d.—The execution of Andrew Tewepe took place at Fort Colville on the 15th instant, at 12:15 P. M. The rime was the killing of a settler, for whom he worked a year ago. Everything passed off very quietly, there being but few persons present. The prisoner made a request a few days before that no Indian be present at the execution. He was attended in his last hours by Father Carwana, who took charge of his mains. The doomed man's dying request to his friends was that they bury all animos-ity against the Indian who killed his brother Levi at old Fort Colville last winter. He died game, coming upon the scaffold with his head erect, singing a war song. He said he was perfectly satisfied to die for the crime he had committed; that he deserved punish-ment, and that had his early training not been too much neglected possibly it would not have happened. It was feared some weeks ago that there might be trouble, as the Indians had made many threats, but through the influence of the Catholic priest and Tewepe's own request, they acted sensibly and stayed away. Douglas W. Taylor was to night appointed and confirmed City Surveyor, displacing W. . Chapman.

SCHOOL MEETINGS. The call for a meeting of parents of children in public schools resident in Precinct 45, last night, was responded to by between thirty and forty citizens, who assembled at Byrne's carpet-beating establishment on O street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets. Sparrow Smith was called to the chair and stated the object of the meeting to be to consult regarding the school officers' election the first week in December. George B. Katzenstein was elected Chairman. Speeches were made by Messrs. Boyne, Henderson, Jost, Katzenstein, Willey, Bohl, Taylor and others. POLICE COURT.—The business transacted in this Court yesterday was as follows: Len Hodgkins was tried and declared to be a vagrant; also, John Robinson, a deaf mute, was tried for same offense, and declared to be guilty. He was sentenced to sixty days in the County Jail, with attending vigorous exercise, under superintendence of Deputy Sheriff Garrett. The Judge, after considering these cases, expressed his warm approval of the action of the police in arresting this class of worthless fellows, and prosecuting them for their worse than indolent habits. He said that the only avocation which they plead as a defense to prosecution is doing some chores about houses of ill-fame, and that they are a blot upon the fair name of the city, and should be compelled to go to work and earn an honest living. He hoped the officers would continue these arrests as often as they found subjects liable to the charge of vagrancy. The case of vagrancy against William Clark was continued. Pat and John Gallagher were fined $25 each for disturbing the peace, and the cases of George and E. G. Ebert were continued until to-

A TRAVELER'S CRITICISM. Count De Rupert, who visited California in 1879, and whose sketches of travels in this State, published in book form, have heretofore received notice in these columns, says New York stretches its 3,000,000 legs, yawns driving. and wonders why in the name of sense people will persist in living all their life long in ple will persist in living all their life long in "provincial towns," such as Philadelphia, Boston or Chicago? Boston puts on her spectacles, sweeps the horizon near and far, and chuckles in the thought that none but she has grown dyspeptic and yellow over the worn out leaves of a Greek lexicon. Chicago wants to know, "Have you seen the water works, the finest in the world, sir?" St. Louis "is not so fast as Chicago, but is surer." It is "not mortzaged to the ears." s surer." It is "not mortgaged to the ears, you know." "St. Louis is the city of the uture, sir, there can be no doubt." Louisville, charming and gallant city, sings the grace and beauty of her women. Cincinnati resorts to the most ingenious arguments to impress you with the fact that if she deals in ork and lager she also meddles with music. San Francisco, who is courteous and hospitable, invites you to dinner at one of the leading restaurants, and informs you before you reach the second course, that San Francisco restaurants "beat the world," that California is "the garden of America" and that its "glorious climate is the finest on God's earth, sir." There is a taste for art culture in California, and Sacramento boasts of the fact that Carlory art Callery of the finest gallery—the Crocker Art Gallery. It has nearly one thousand paintings, representing the Flemish, Dutch, Italian, French, Spanish and German schools. The gallery is open to the public, and tourists who visit the capital of California are invariably asked to go and "see the creat paintings." "Have you been to the Crockery Gallery?" said a hackman to me. "There are mighty nice paintings there sir." This was the first backman. ings there, sir." This was the first hackman in America who had talked paintings to me. In a city of the same size of Sacramento in the East, the traveler is requested to visit the iron foundry, the Insane Asylum, or the water-works, "the biggest thing in the world, CRIMINAL CASES,-In the Superior Court yesterday, Judge Clark presiding, James Brown was tried for setting fire to a barn located in the alley between L and M, Fifth and Sixth streets, in this city, a short time ago. The jury found defendant guilty of arson in the second degree. It was shown that the crime was committed in the day-time instead of the night. John Whalon, alias "Whalebone Jim," was tried for beating Thomas Cahill with a tumber over the head in the "Workingmen's Saloon," on K, between Second and Third streets, kept by met last evening at the Capital Hotel to consider the school question. EIGHTH DAY OF THE SLICKENS CASE-A SHORT SESSION.

Testimony of William Milgate, Senator Johnston and J. M. Upham-Adjournment until Monday Next.

The slickens case, The People vs. Gold sumed in the Superior Court at 9:30 A. M. yesterday, Judge Temple presiding. Wm, Milgate sworn-I arrived in Sacra-

I owned 100 acres on the bank of American river just below the bridge. My brother took up the land in 1850. Our residence was about 500 feet from the edge of the bank. The waters of the river at that point were I moved to Sherman Island in the spring of very deep. The bank during the summer was twenty-two feet above the water. The bed of the river was covered with coarse bed of the river was covered with coarse there for some years, and been one of the gravel. We used to ford during the summer Trustees since 1868. Large bars of sand have just above where the bridge is located. The water at the ford was three feet deep and in crossing we could see plenty of fish.

Sand-bars did not form nor the channel bedocino county, to reside at Ukiah; C. E. just above where the bridge is located. The Fleming, for Merced county, to reside at water at the ford was three feet deep and take place at Agricultural Park to-day, at which valuable money prizes have been offered. The shooting will be at 12 single birds, 21 yards rise, under California State ten feet deep. All of our land was covered ten feet deep. All of our land was covered been reduced fully one half. During the last during this flood with coarse sand. Our fences few years the water has been more heavily were completely covered, and when the water were completely covered, and when the water six feet deep. The early floods prior to 1862 did the land no harm. The sediment deposited by those overflews were beneficial to the soil. The sand that covers it now is entirely stantial levees, but the continued raising of soil. The sand that covers it now is entirely worthless, and has totally destroyed the tritus rendered them useless when high waters productiveness of the soil. The channel has came. In 1877 and 1878 the waters over so filled up with sand and sediment that the water overflows all this land during the entire winter and during any ordinary high der water most of the time, and especially water. Prior to 1862 we could live at all during the planting season. The soil was times of the year with perfect safety. Now each year, for several months at a time, it each year, for several months at a time, it MUDDY SEA OF WATER.

> Not only covering my place, but is a watery waste miles in extent. The water since 1862 has always constantly been laden heavily with sand and sediment. Sand bars of immense area are constantly forming in the river channel. The river on several occasions during high water has scoured out its chan-nel and deposited the sand in the Sacramento. Senator William Johnston sworn—I came to California in 1849, and have been engaged in farming for thirty-one years on the east bank of the Sacramento, south of Sacramento City. I forded the American river opposite Sutter's Fort in 1849. Its waters were clear, bottom gravelly, and the banks were quite bluff. The Sacramento at that time, opposite my place, was quite wide, twenty feet deep, and the banks were quite bluff. The commerce of the river at that time was carried on by such vessels as the New World, Senator, Hartford and McKim. Afterwards vessels even larger, such as the Capital and Chrysopolis, navigated its waters. During the first ten years of my residence on the river I observed no changes. During the last ten years, and especially the last year, the river channel has been considerably filled with sand. Opposite my place it has filled up even with the bank of the river. Just below my house it is filled in to the depth of thirty feet. This deposit we call clickers. It is compared of call slickens. It is composed of WHITE SAND AND FINE SEDIMENT. When dry it has a whitish appearance; when wet it is sticky and of a yellowish color. When it dries it cracks in places to a considerable depth. [Witness shown samples.] I recognize sample 6 [Catlin's sample] as the know of showing those indications. I believ same kind as the deposit of 1880. [Hodg-Sherman Island can be reclaimed, but don' don's slickens.] This resembles the deposit of a few years preceding. Sample No. 3 [A. sland to reclaim it was $4 80 per acre. That island to reclaim it was $4 80 per acre. That G. G.] resembles the first deposit. [Sample of Hodgdon gray sand.] We have but little would not wash away. It broke from presof this material. It first made its appearance on the Whitcomb ranch last winter.

The filling up of the channel has made the since. Don't think the island was flooded in rainfall nowadays to make it overflow its flow in those years, but there may have been banks. The water in the river flowing so a few breaks that admitted the water for a high above the original surface percolates the day or two, until the breaks were repaired levee, and the sipage destroys to a great extent the productiveness of the lands near the A break in 1878 caused a general overflow of river. Prior to 1862 the sipage water was easily taken care of. We, during that time, never failed to raise large and abundant crops of fruits and vegetables. Fruit was the most profitable crop that could be raised. The soil was first-class dark, leamy soil. The soil two or three hours the latter.

FRUITS OF ALL KINDS Flourished and produced abundantly, and our crops were always the first in market.

Now things are changed. Our crops are not so early, many of our orchards are destroyed, and crops of any kind very uncertain. The width of cultivatable land has diminished are helf. Betwider of the vicer here here one-half. Both sides of the river have been affected in this manner. Fully one-third of the best land on the east side of the river has been destroyed. The levees we have now have been built since 1862-most of them have been built since 1862—most of them since 1868. The assessment per acre for levee purposes on Grand Island has been $34-25. My levee has cost me perhaps $5 per acre. I have 534 acres in my tract, and devote it to fruit, vegetables and grazing. We have to put our houses on mounds. My house is 12 feet above the natural ground. I saved my cattle from drowning last winter by putting them on an artificial mound. I put my house them on an artificial mound. I put my house them on an artificial mound. I put my house them on an artificial mound. I put my house them on an artificial mound. I put my house them on an artificial mound. I put my house them on an artificial mound. I put my house them on a property of the points near the mouth of the American ican river referred to in the testimony. them on an artificial mound. I put my house up so high so as to keep out of the water. A great many of my neighbors have done the same. These who had not done so

LIVED IN THE WATER Last winter. There are many fine residences in my section, and they are all built on mounds, and about twelve feet above the natural soil. Prior to 1862 we had no use for levees or elevated houses. My levee has base of twenty-four feet and six feet high. This levee last winter was overtopped by the floods. The land on the opposite side of the river suffered more than ours. This was caused by the breaks above, on the west side of the Sacramento river. Originally most of the steamers came through what was called Steamboat slough. It was a shorter route. craft came through that channel until about three years since. All the natural land on the east side of the river, south of Sacramento, heretofore protected by levess, was overflowed to a great depth last winter. The deposit on my places by the flood of 1862 was slight and not detrimental. It was not so deep but what it could be plowed in and mixed with the soil. Most of the damage has been done by sandy deposits within the last five years, and last winter the deposit was equal to any two years previous. A little more filling up of the river channel, and that country will be destroyed for agricultural purposes and ren-dered uninhabitable. The roads and highways have been washed away in some places, and in others rendered impassable during the wet season. During the winter we come to the city by steamer and also by small boats through the tules. I have noticed that

THE RIVER BOTTOM Is higher during a high stage of water than it is after the water has subsided. In rowing and poling boats across the river I have ncticed bars of sand moving down the channel, Since the 1st of May this year the water has been clearer than at any time during the last ten years. During the summer this comparten years. During the summer this compar-atively clear water has cut out, deepened and widened the channel considerably. Orchards were first planted in 1851. This business, up to 1870, was very profitable, and a great many were engaged in it. Since 1870, and noticeably during the past few years, the sipage and overflows have to a very great extent killed the most valuable orchards. The cherry, peach, plum and apricot orchards have been nearly ruined. Every time we have had a flood, and notably last year, our fruit trees during the blooming season were standing in water to a considerable depth. The usual frontage of each farm on the river prior to 1860 was half a mile, and at that time carry half rails between Sagraments and

The rains were over before the middle of January, 1861 and 1862. In 1861 and 1862 some parts of my place were covered to a depth of 20 feet. The flood of 1881 and 1882 was three feet higher on the river bank than the high water of 1861 and 1862. The levees on the west side of the river last winter were destroyed to a considerable extent by the water from the tule running over them. There were six breaks in the east levee of the river best when this city and my place. One break, at the Whitcomb ranch, was about 80 rods wide,

The Lisbon district is about 12 miles from Sacramento by the river. The levees of that district are 10 or 12 feet high, with a base of Tullis fruit ranch has not been so productive during the last few years as formerly. Prior to 1862 could have cultivated four-fifths of my entire place. Last year I cultivated only about 100 acres. At least three-fourths of this land was cultivated in 1854, 1855, 1856 and 1859. During those years it was not overflowed to acres with it was not overflowed to any extent. Sol, Runyon was the largest fruit-grower on the river. Hollister, Rawlston and others have very extensive orchards. The upper part of Grand Island is tolerably high land.

The Freeport levee is seven miles above me.

1862, and to Emmaton, my present residence, in 1871. The island is about twelve miles long. I have been an extensive landowner few levees on Sherman Island. The island at that time was very successfully cultivated in topped the levees. We have expended since 1862 about $35 per acre on our levees, and land cultivated on the island.

THE CULTIVATION Of the island began in 1856. We raised our largest crops in 1877, after we made our heaviest levees. Sherman Island is now all under water, 14,000 acres, and all of it has been cultivated in past years. It has been under water for two years before this one The year before that some attempt was made to cultivate. We have there a school-hous store, shop, houses, etc., and religious service are held some times. The school-house floated away once, but was brought back. Think the island is ruined. Don't think it will ever be recusitated. The water stands over the lands the year round now. Formerly the tide fell sufficiently to drain the lands, but now the tide is from twelve to eighteen inches less, and we lose its drainage effect; then, too, the water in the river is so much higher that between the two our drainage is de stroyed, and it is due to the rise in the bed of the river. It would cost fully $30 per ac now to repair and rebuild the levees. breaks we think are attributable to the raising of the bed of the Sacramento river by reason of its filling up. I have been over Brannan, Andrus, Grand and other islands. On Sherman Island the soil is mainly de cayed vegetable matter. Have had but little deposit from the river.

CROSS-EXAMINATION. Never heard Sherman Island called a floating island. Never heardany who lived there so call it. In some places for four and five acres the land, to a certain depth, rises and falls, that is, is influenced by the flood. Probably out of the 14,000 acres there may be twenty-five of that kind. That's all floods more frequent. It takes but little 1874 and 1875. There was no general over soil was first-class dark, Icamy soil. The soil in the tules was rich, and where reclaimed

Up to 1867, if there were no levees on the island, the tide at the high tides would just perceptibly flow over the banks, but never got back to the middle of the island. It percelated through, but the absorption and evaporation kept the middle dry, so much so that in one or two years we had extensive fires, the soil taking fire somewhere and burning extensively. There are some small sloughs running back a few rods, and one slough, Mayberry's, is eight miles long. The $35 per acre expended in reclama-tion has been in part expended in the repair of levees. Immense Excitement

SHERIFF'S SALE OF J. P. GILMAN'S STOCK.

The city merchants were on the spot early, each determined to take the prize, but when the gavel dropped, and the Sheriff sang out, SOLD TO Mr. J. T. GRIFFITTS," there was astonishment and consternation depicted on every countenance. They had missed their opportunity; they evidently thought that the Sheriff would sleep on it a little, and when the all-telling word, "SOLD," rang out upon the sharp frosty air, it sounded like a knell to departed hope. It seems unaccountably strange that the shrewd merchants of our city should have allowed the Court Receiver to pluck the prize from their grasp so easily.

injurious to fruit and fruit trees, and liable to spread contagion, is hereby required to be disinfected, as hereinafter provided, before removal off the premises where grown, for the purpose of sale, gift, distribution or transportation.

4 Fruit of any kind infested by any insect or insects, or the germs thereof, namely, their eggs, larvæ or pupæ, known to be injurious to fruit or fruit trees, and liable to spread contagion, imported or brought into this State from any foreign country, or from any of the United States or Territories, is hereby prohibited from being offered for sale, gift, distribution or transportation.

5. Fruit of any kind infested by the insect known as the Codling Moth, or its larva or pupa, is hereby prohibited from being kept in bulk, or in packages or boxes of any kind, in any orchard, storeroom, salesroom or place, or being dried for food, or any other purposes, or being removed for sale, gift, distribution or transportation.

6. Fruit boxes, packages or baskets, used for ship.

LEGAL NOTICES.

papers of general circulation, not of the same city or county, in this State. All parties concerned therein are required to conform thereto, subject to penalties provided for by law, for any infraction or evasion of said rules and regulations:

8. Tree or plant cuttings, grafts, scions, plants or trees of any kind may be disinfected by dipping in a solution composed of not less than one pound (1 b) of commercial concentrated by to each and every two (2) gallous of water used as such disinfectant, or in any other manner satisfactory to the Chief Executive Horticultural and Health Officer.

State for sale, gift or distribution outside the vine. Rule 1. All cuttings of grapevines made in this State for sale, gift or distribution outside the vineyard, or vineyards, where the same were grown, and intended for new plantations, shall be made solely of the wood of the preceding year's growth; all older wood to be carefully and thoroughly removed before leaving the vineyard where made, and to be immediately destroyed by fire, if removed from such cuttings wherever seized by any duly authorized inspector for any evasion or infraction of this rule. The reason of this rule is that the winter egg of the phylloxera vastatrix is, according to the best authorities, found only on the old wood.

Rule 2. All cuttings of grapevines, and rooted grapevines, imported from any region or country outside this State, intended for sale, gift or distribution for plantation in this State, shall be disinfected by dipping in boiling water, and allowed to remain in said boiling water used as such disinfectent to contain in solution not less than one pound (1 h) of concentrated potash, or three-fourths (2) of one pound (1 h) of concentrated by any species of Scale Insect or Scale Insect o manner satisfactory to the Chief Executive Horticultural and Health Officer.

11. Owners of fruit of any kind grown in any orchard, nursery or place, in which trees or plants are known to be infested with any insect or insects, or the germs thereof, namely, their eggs, larvæ or pupæ, known to be injurious to fruit or fruit trees, and liable to spread contagion, and all persons in possession thereof, or offering for sale, gift, distribution or transportation, are hereby required to procure a certificate of disinfection before removal for sale, gift, distribution or transportation.

12. Any tree or plant cuttings, grafts, scions, plants or trees of any kind, empty fruit boxes, fruit packages, or fruit baskets, or transferable material of any kind, offered for sale, gift, distribution or transportation, in violation of the Quarantine Bules and Regulations for the protection of fruit and fruit trees, approved by the Board of State Viticultural Commissioners, may be seized by the Chief Executive Horticultural and Health Officer, or by any of the local resident Inspectors appointed by him; said seizure to be the taking possession thereof, and ho'ding for disintection, or for an order of condemnation by a Court of competent jurisdiction.

13. Any person violating the above Quarantine Rules and Regulations shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars.
